The formal proceedings began with the symbolic cake-cutting ceremony to commemorate the occasion and welcome the distinguished guests.

In his address, Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz said:

“Celebrating Youm-e-Tashakur is not only about rejoicing in our achievements, but also about reinforcing the spirit of unity, collaboration, and gratitude. It is a day to reflect on the collective efforts that have brought us this far and to thank all those who have contributed to our journey.”

He paid special tribute to the Pakistan Armed Forces, acknowledging their valor and sacrifices:

“Our military is our pride. Our martyrs and veterans are the true heroes of this nation who gave everything for the sanctity of our motherland. It is our national duty to remember them and to instill their spirit of patriotism in future generations.”

The chief guest, Brigadier Muhammad Naveed Iqbal, and the guest of honor, Malik Jehanzaib Waran, also addressed the gathering. They appreciated the academic and research contributions of CUVAS and commended the dedication of both the faculty and students in uplifting educational standards and fostering national values .

One day hands-on Training Workshop on "Data Visualization" held at CUVAS

On May 21st, 2025, Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, in collaboration with the Department of Animal Nutrition and the Department of Computer Science and IT, successfully conducted a one day hands-on training workshop titled "Data Visualization" under the esteemed supervision of Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz, at the Syndicate Room, Vice Chancellor Secretariat.

The workshop's distinguished guest, Dean of the Faculty of Animal Production and Technology, Prof. Dr. Faiz-ul Hassan, emphasized the undeniable importance of computer science and programming in today's rapidly evolving world. He urged students to master programming languages such as Python to stay ahead and meet the demands of modern technology, stressing that such skills are no longer optional but essential for success in every field.

Led by expert trainer Dr. Nasir Jalal, participants received practical training on effectively presenting data through Python, learning to create impactful visual tools like line graphs and bar charts. This hands-on experience will empower students to enhance their research projects, theses, and academic work with clear, compelling data presentations.

The workshop witnessed enthusiastic participation from undergraduate and postgraduate students alike, reflecting CUVAS's commitment to elevating academic excellence and equipping students with critical, real-world skills.

CUVAS Celebrates International Tea Day

On May 21st, 2025, in celebration of International Tea Day, the Department of Social and Allied Sciences at Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, hosted a lively and insightful event that showcased the rich cultural heritage and global importance of tea. The event was graced by esteemed guests, including Dean Professor Dr. Abdul Ghaffar, Dean Professor Dr. Faiz-ul-Hassan, Keynote Speaker Dr. Hamid Majeed, and Guest Speaker Dr. Maryam from Government Sadiq College Women University, Bahawalpur. The event was skillfully coordinated by Dr. Tanveer Akhtar.

In her thought-provoking address, Dr. Maryam shed light on the cultural, economic, and social importance of tea, taking students on a journey through its rich history and global appeal. She emphasized how tea, beyond being a cherished beverage, serves as a symbol of unity and tradition in many societies around the world.

The event not only celebrated a universal drink but also encouraged students to appreciate the deeper cultural connections that everyday rituals like tea drinking can foster.

The poster features a green background with palm leaves. At the top left is the CUVAS logo. In the center, the text 'INTERNATIONAL Tea Day' is displayed, with 'INTERNATIONAL' in white and 'Tea Day' in yellow script. ## Strong Mind, Strong Nation – CUVAS Seminar Promotes Mental Wellness in Youth

On May 22nd, 2025, Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS) organized a thought-provoking seminar titled "Strong Mind, Strong Nation," aimed at raising awareness about mental well-being and its vital role in national development. The event was graced by Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz as Chief Guest, with guest speakers Prof. Dr. Samar Fahd from the Department of Psychology, Islamia University Bahawalpur, and Dr. Shabbir Ch., Associate Professor and Director, BZU Sub Campus Lodhran.

In his address, Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz emphasized that a healthy mind is the foundation of a healthy nation. He stressed the need to promote positive thinking, emotional resilience, and tolerance among university students to build a stronger, more balanced society. Prof. Dr. Samar Fahd highlighted the growing mental stress, irritability, and intolerance among youth, pointing out that early, positive guidance and emotional support are key to addressing these challenges. Dr. Shabbir Ch. added that educational institutions must focus not only on academic excellence but also on nurturing strong, stable minds to ensure a stronger future for the nation.

Biodiversity Day at CUVAS – A Commitment to Nature's Future

On May 22nd, 2025, Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS) observed Biodiversity Day with a powerful message: protecting nature is essential for a sustainable future. Chief Guest Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz emphasized that biodiversity is the backbone of life on Earth, and its preservation is a duty we must all embrace. He highlighted that a healthy ecosystem depends on the protection of all living species.

Guest speaker Dr. Muhammad Abdullah pointed out that each species plays a crucial role in the natural balance, and even a single loss can create lasting harm. He encouraged young people to become active stewards of biodiversity through informed action. Prof. Dr. Riffat Sultana reinforced the idea that true environmental progress begins with awareness and education. She stressed the role of universities in promoting biodiversity through research and community engagement.

The event inspired students and faculty alike to see biodiversity not just as a scientific concept, but as a shared responsibility—one that shapes the health of our environment and the future of our nation.

Bilingual Speech Competition 2025

On May 22nd, 2025, the Roots Revival Society, under the guidance of Ms. Aisha Kabir and Dr. Inamullah Wattoo, organized a vibrant Bilingual Speech Competition that brought together students from various departments. Participants passionately delivered speeches in both English and Urdu, highlighting their oratory skills and confidence.

Esteemed judges, Ms. Amna Zia (Assistant Professor of English) and Mr. Afzal Saqib (Assistant Professor of Urdu) from Government Graduate College Baghdad Road Bahawalpur, evaluated the performances with keen insight. The event concluded with Prof. Abdul Ghaffar, Dean Faculty of Biosciences, distributing certificates and shields to the winners and organizers, appreciating their efforts in promoting linguistic diversity and student engagement.

.On May 23rd, 2025, a one-day seminar on "Animal Welfare and Ethics" was held at Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, in collaboration with Brooke Hospital for Animals Pakistan. The event was presided over by Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz.

Distinguished guests included Dr. Javed Khan, Animal Healthcare Manager at Brooke Pakistan, Dr. Muhammad Shafi Khan, Regional Manager Brooke Multan, and Dr. Mazhar, Community Animal Health Officer from Brooke Bahawalpur.

In his address, Prof. Dr. Mazhar Ayaz emphasized the urgent need for students to understand the importance of animal welfare, modern diagnostic techniques, and the critical role of veterinary services in rural communities. He praised organizations like Brooke Pakistan for not only delivering services in the field but also for partnering with academic institutions to provide awareness and training opportunities, calling their efforts commendable and impactful.

The guest speakers shared valuable first-hand experiences from the field, offering students a deeper insight into the real-world challenges and responsibilities of veterinary professionals.

The seminar was well-attended by faculty members including Dr. Qudratullah, Dr. Mushtaq Ahmed Gondal, and Dr. Muhammad Sajid, along with a large number of enthusiastic students.

The session concluded with an interactive Q&A, where students actively engaged with the speakers, gaining practical knowledge about animal care, timely disease diagnosis, and the ethical dimensions of veterinary practice.

This seminar not only inspired future veterinarians but also reinforced the importance of compassion, ethics, and service in animal health care.

Hands-On SPSS Workshop Empowers CUVAS Students

On May 23rd, 2025, the Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, through its Cholistan Institute of Business Administration (CIBA), organized a specialized training workshop titled “Mastering Data Analysis with SPSS: A Hands-On Workshop for BS Students.” The event was held under the esteemed leadership of Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz.

Renowned guest speaker Dr. Humaera Hayat delivered an insightful lecture on research methodology, data collection, analysis, and the effective use of SPSS software. Students actively participated using their laptops to analyze real datasets, gaining valuable hands-on experience aligned with modern research practices.

Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz, in his address, highlighted the central role of research in academic excellence. He stressed that training students to meet international standards is a top priority at CUVAS. Tools like SPSS, he added, not only enhance academic competence but also empower students to become self-reliant researchers.

The workshop was attended by a large number of students and faculty members, including Dr. Saleh Nawaz Khan, Dr. Abdul Khaliq, Dr. Muhammad Naeem Shahid, and Dr. Hunzala Ahmad.

This impactful session bridged the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application, equipping students with essential skills to navigate the evolving landscape of academic research with confidence and clarity.

CUVAS Hosts Insightful Session on Research Writing

On May 25th, 2025, CUVAS Bahawalpur conducted an insightful session on scientific writing to equip young researchers with essential skills. Organized by Dr. Jamal Muhammad Khan, the session featured Dr. Yasir Hameed, who shared strategies for writing impactful review papers and navigating academic databases effectively. The role of AI in writing was also discussed, emphasizing ethical use.

Vice Chancellor Dr. Mazhar Ayaz praised the initiative, highlighting the university's dedication to promoting high-quality research. The session ended with an interactive Q&A, encouraging students to adopt best practices in their research journey.

Youm-e-Takbeer – A Tribute to National Strength and Scientific Excellence

Youm-e-Takbeer marks a defining moment in Pakistan's history, symbolizing national defense, sovereignty, and scientific advancement. On May 28, 1998, Pakistan's successful nuclear tests declared to the world that it is a resilient, self-reliant, and undefeatable nation.

On May 28th, 2025, Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz highlighted the significance of this day, stating that it reflects the unity, determination, and scientific excellence of the Pakistani nation. He honored the legacy of Dr. Abdul Qadeer Khan and his team, whose tireless efforts not only made Pakistan a nuclear power but also instilled national pride and self-confidence.

Addressing students, Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz urged them to embrace knowledge, research, and patriotism, so that Pakistan may continue to advance as a formidable force in science, education, and economy.

On June 05th, 2025, the 11th Syndicate Meeting of Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, was held under the chairmanship of Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz. During the session, several key agenda points were thoroughly discussed and approved with mutual consensus to ensure effective progress in the university's administrative and academic affairs.

Some complex matters required in-depth deliberation among the esteemed syndicate members. It was collectively decided that these points would be revisited in the next meeting after further preparation, ensuring more informed and unified decisions.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz expressed his gratitude to all participants for their valuable input and active engagement.

CUVAS Hosts Workshop on PSG 2023 to Strengthen Quality Assurance in Higher Education

On June 19th, 2025, the Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, in collaboration with the Pakistan Scientific and Technical Information Center (PASTIC) under the Pakistan Science Foundation (PSF), organized a one-day training workshop on “PSG 2023: Pakistan Precepts Standards and Guidelines for Quality Assurance.”

The workshop was held under the patronage of Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz. The guest speakers included Prof. Dr. Asadullah Madni, Director QEC, Islamia University Bahawalpur, and Mr. Rao Mazhar Hussain, Additional Director QEC, Islamia University Bahawalpur. Additionally, Mr. Muhammad Hasnain, Assistant Director at PASTIC, joined the session online.

Dr. Rana Muhammad Bilal, Director QEC, along with his team, warmly welcomed the guest speakers. Addressing the participants, Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz emphasized that the main objective of the workshop was to highlight academic and research quality at the international level and to enhance the university's global ranking. He stressed the importance of aligning academic, research, and student services with global benchmarks like the QS Rankings, and called for making the Quality Enhancement Cell (QEC) more dynamic and modernized. He further reaffirmed the university's commitment to establishing CUVAS as a leading institution in veterinary and animal sciences in Pakistan.

During the workshop, the guest speakers provided detailed insights into PSG 2023, describing it as a comprehensive and effective framework for promoting quality education in higher education institutions. They highlighted that universities across the country are actively working through their QECs to implement these standards. The speakers also presented a comparative analysis of RIPE Standards and IPE Standards, explaining that RIPE Standards focus on fostering research, innovation, performance, and student employability, while IPE Standards cover institutional performance, planning, faculty development, student engagement, academic programs, and transparency.

CUVAS Establishes Media House to Promote Veterinary Science and Farmers' Awareness

On June 23th, 2025, Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz inaugurated the CUVAS Media House at Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur. The primary objective of this initiative is to disseminate information on veterinary science, animal health, and welfare to livestock farmers and the agricultural community in the region.

Speaking at the inauguration, Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz stated that the establishment of the CUVAS Media House is a significant step toward achieving the university's educational and research objectives. This center will play a key role in documenting the university's academic, research, and outreach activities. In this era of modern technology, the role of media has become more important than ever. The Media House will help highlight the university's research projects, veterinary practices, farming techniques, and other scientific endeavors—benefiting not only the university but the entire region.

CUVAS Organizes Certificate Distribution Ceremony for Participants of Hilal Talks 2025

On June 23th, 2025, a special ceremony was held at Cholistan University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (CUVAS), Bahawalpur, under the chairmanship of Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz, to distribute certificates among the participants of Hilal Talks 2025. Faculty members from CUVAS participated in the six-day training sessions of Hilal Talks 2025, organized by the Inter-Services Public Relations (ISPR) at the Cholistan Auditorium, Bahawalpur Garrison. The primary objective of this program was to equip university faculty members from across the country to counter anti-state narratives, misinformation, and malicious agendas on social media platforms.

Speaking on the occasion, Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz appreciated the participation of CUVAS faculty, stating that their involvement reflects a meaningful contribution to safeguarding the national narrative.

Prof. Dr. Muhammad Mazhar Ayaz described Hilal Talks 2025 as a timely and insightful initiative of national significance. He commended ISPR for organizing such impactful training to intellectually and academically prepare university faculty to confront misleading information, anti-state propaganda, and hostile narratives spreading online. He also emphasized that parents and teachers have a vital responsibility to closely monitor the digital activities of the younger generation, ensuring they are provided with accurate information and guided to distinguish between truth and falsehood, protecting them from misinformation and negative propaganda.

Further elaborating, the Vice Chancellor highlighted that the training sessions provided by DG ISPR not only offered valuable insights into the structure and functioning of the Pakistan Armed Forces, but also significantly contributed to strengthening participants' understanding of the national narrative, fostering patriotism, and enhancing trust in state institutions.
